The Growth Of A GENERATION

—Kathleen Capson

In each "today" flows rivers of thought
And each "tomorrow" reaches the bank of decision.

Our source is the mountain of God's teaching.
Our channel conducts the discovery of ourselves.
Our tributaries carry hope, love, and understanding.
Our islands are never plagued by stagnation.

We flow on to the sea, nourished by the rainfall of God's graces
And GROWING in the sunlight of eternal values.

Our GENERATION has witnessed the emergence of the "hip" culture, which has created a tug of war for the soul and will of our nation. The word of the day — rebellion — has come to symbolize the steamrollered values of an older generation, superseded by the idealism of a younger one.

Moving with the ongoing cultural process, Quigley's students have sought change. But, just like a river, Quigley erodes its boundaries away slowly. Most of the time, it keeps an ordered flow, trying out the turbulence of rebellion to save it from stagnation — and death. This slow but continual process of change cites an important target — GROWTH.

— Kathleen Capson

Your GENERATION has witnessed the workings of men on the moon, assassinations of our officials, soldiers on our streets, demonstrations in our cities . . . As a result, the panoramic, living world seems to overshadow the individual, and technology traps the remaining skeleton in a short-circuit civilization.

The future of man depends on the sensitive individual, one who is attuned to his own feelings and the feelings of others, one who cares for and shares with the other individuals of his social organism. This is, in part, what the Quigley organism conducts — the discovery and the GROWTH of the self.

— Kathleen Capson

Our GENERATION has witnessed the merging of intellectual resources with the computer, forming a cohesive force to solve problems never before possible.

Today's student must cultivate the [illegible] which differentiate humans from ma[illegible]sity, inventiveness, resourcefulness, and good judgement. In order to provide for this intrinsic learning, technological, administrative, and teacher resources must cohere. These provide the source, channel, and tributaries which will guide the school. This is why we liken Quigley to a river, and why we, the first graduating class, have claimed a dual GROWTH — that of Quigley High School and the GROWTH OF A GENERATION.

A MESSAGE FROM BISHOP LEONARD

I welcome the opportunity to extend greetings to the faculty and students of Quigley High School. It is my understanding that this Senior Class constitutes the first graduation class which completed its four years at Quigley High School. I extend to each member of the class congratulations and best wishes and pray that there will be many graduation classes in the years ahead.

There appears to be a tendency today to be adversely critical of past generations. Yet, if one carefully considers the advancements that man has made over the years in the fields of health and education, there is sufficient reason to commend the actions of past generations. However, we must not be wedded to the past. We must move forward in church and community, confident that if we are true to the principles of our faith our endeavors will be likewise successful.

To a certain extent, the future of the Catholic church is in the hands of young people like the students of Quigley High School. The youth of today are not hesitant in expressing criticism of their parents and past generations. The issue of the moment is not whether this criticism is true or false. It will be, however, your responsibility to so live in openness, sincerity, and honesty that the generation which follows you will not be equally critical of you.

May God bless you in the days ahead.

Rev. George T. Leech

Headmaster

My dear Seniors,

Congratulations on being the first class to complete your secondary schooling at Quigley High School. You have had to put up with considerable inconvenience, undergo hardships, and make real sacrifices in being the first class. You will pardon me if I do not apologize for these inconveniences. These difficulties were part of your education, of your life experience, and of your formation as persons. By making these sacrifices you have left some thing of yourself at Quigley; and in demanding them of you, Quigley has left something of itself with you.

I thank you for beginning so many programs at Quigley, religious, academic, social, and athletic. Yours were years of sowing, not of reaping, and the sower does not go unrewarded. May the Grace of God, which has brought you to this point in your lives, continue to guide you in the pursuit of the highest goal; the service of God and of mankind.

May God bless you,
Father Leech

Congratulations to the Class '71.

Dear Graduates,

For the past four years I have had the special privilege of working with and helping to form your future. Our work is now completed. I am proud of you!

May you go forth from the Halls of Quigley bearing the Torch of Faith, Hope and Love for all to see. May the Grace of God be with you as you go your way, is the prayer of

Senior Farewell

The time for reflection has come;
a sad, yet happy time of memories that linger near the open door that stands in front of us.
Life has, in essence, just begun.

But still, We can't help wondering if it is the beginning of the end or the end of the beginning that is in front of us.
It's a bewildering, mixed-up thing.

We start remembering the time that seeped past us like water in a dam
With each drop an experience that cannot be relived.
But all the drops are ours.

All the happiness and the pains that have passed through our lives in these last years and the knowledge and friends we've found give strength for the future.

nagine a steelmaker giving up smoking.

Air and water pollution are problems or companies as well as communities. As part of the community, companies have an obligation to face up to these problems.

Armco has.

Our efforts have already cost us over 97 million. To finish the job will require an dditional $50 million.

In Ashland, Ky. and Middletown, O., ew Basic Oxygen Furnaces have eplaced old open hearths. New electric furnaces are operating at Butler, Pa.
and Houston, Tex. All have the very latest pollution-control equipment.

We're paying equal attention to water.
In Middletown, we return to the Miami River water that's cleaner than when we took it out.

Clean air and water—and quickly—is our goal at all Armco plants. And from what we hear, it's the goal of all steelmakers.

"Be patient toward all that is unsolved in your heart, and try to love the questions themselves. Do not seek answers that cannot be given you because you would not be able to live them and the point is, to live is everything. Live the questions now.

Perhaps you will gradually, without noticing it, live along some distant day into the answers."
